HISTORY OF THE WHEELER SHOWS

Well Known in East and South, is Making First Tour West.

The Wheeler Bros Enormous Shows coming here May 15, will be the first big circus to visit us this season, a worthy opening of the annual sawdust season.

For a generation this old show has merited a high class reputation in the eastern and southern states and is now making its first tour west.

Al F. Wheeler, the founder and general director, is yet a young man in the early forties, having devoted his life time to developing a four wagon road show up to a three train and three ring enterprise, regarded as the most wonderful achievement in circus history, and his clean, progressive, up-to-date methods have been rewarded artistically and financially.

In an interview the other day Mr. Wheeler said: "The circus business of today is vastly different from what it was even ten years ago. It has been reduced to a business science, as any other business enterprise has to be. All of the questionable and grafting features have been cut entirely away, and a modern traveling circus is more like a military organization than a free-for-all bands of entertainers, which characterized many shows on former years through the country, when so many depredations on property by hangers-on, and buncoers were reported. In the modern show there is a code of rules to follow. Each show carries its own police force, who strictly enforce the ground rules. No employee of the show is allowed to leave the grounds under a penalty of $5 fine, without a special permit. We keep off all rowdy characters and any disorderly person is arrested, whether he be a member of the show or a spectator and is promptly turned over to the local police.

"The greatest inconvenience to the modern traveling show is competent labor. The men who do the manual labor are especially hard to get. We are forced to employ a large number of new men. These are competent only to groom horses, assist in pitching tents and real heavy work. These we call 'razorbacks.' This class of labor is like the floating population of a city. One day we have 200 of them available, and at the next stop we haven't half that number.

"I believe that traveling shows have reached the height of excellence. The better shows on the road now are just as expensive as the patronage will allow. We have tried all of the latest ideas, but have found few of them practicable for the road. Auto parades may be a feature in the future, but wherever the small towns with bad streets and roads are made they will be useless. We have tried these and found them unfit.

"I have never cut out my parade for the merchants, people in general and the children are particularly interested in this big free street display, although it costs a fortune to give this free show."

DANGERS OF DRAFT.
Drafts feel best when they are hot and perspiring, just when they are most dangerous and the result is Neuritis, Stiff Neck, Sore Muscles, or sometimes an attack of Rheumatism. In such cases apply Sloan's Liniment. It stimulates circulation to the sore and painful part. The blood flows freely and in a short time the stiffness and pain leaves. Those suffering from Neuritis or Neuralgic Headache will find one or two applications of Sloan's Liniment will give grateful relief. The agonizing pain gives way to a tingling sensation of comfort and warmth and quiet rest and sleep is possible. Good for Neuritis too. Price 35c at your druggist.

FIREMEN'S ENTERTAINMENT FUND STARTS WITH $500

Although little work has been done by the fund-raising committee appointed by the entertainment committee of the Chamber of Commerce, $500 has been pledged by local business men for the entertaining of the firemen during their convention in this city from June 13-16. Members of the committee raising the fund state that the remaining portion, $2,500, will be obtained during the first part of next week.

Subscriptions to the fund for entertaining the visitors will be confined mostly to those that will be directly benefited by the convention being held in this city. However, several local concerns have agreed to make donations because of the general good derived in the advertisement that Lima will get.

The program that is being arranged by Secretary Clarke of the Chamber of Commerce will feature some of the most important notables in the state, who, in the role of speakers, will address the vast gathering of firemen in the Memorial hall on several successive days of the convention.

KENDRICK FUNERAL HELD.

The Rev. W. E. Spayde, pastor of the First Lutheran church, officiated at funeral services, held this afternoon at 2 o'clock over the body of Walter Carl Kendrick, at the home of his sister, Mrs. Louis Shultz, of 224 McPherson avenue. The young man died Thursday afternoon. Interment was made at Woodlawn.

NOTICE PATRIOTIC ORDERS.

The patriotic instructor of the Daughters of Veterans would like to meet the patriotic instructors of the other organizations Monday evening, 7.30 at Memorial hall to plan for a flag day entertainment.

CAUGHT PLOTTING TO DYNAMITE PLANT

Held For Conspiring to Blow Up Tod Muni-
cations Factory.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 12.—John Swierz, aged 35, was being held today by Mahoning county authorities after his arrest while in the midst of plans for dynamiting the William Tod war munitions plant in Youngstown.

Swierz was trapped by Charles Dewoody, special agent for the department of justice. Dewoody pretended to become a "conspirator" with the plotter after he had been notified of Swierz's scheme by Ernest Ludwig, Austro-Hungarian consul.

Swierz offered to destroy the plant for $25,000 from Ludwig. His arrest came when detectives swooped down on him after having shadowed him and Dewoody all day. The dynamite had been purchased and hidden underground.

Swierz is being held on a charge of placing explosives on another property. More serious charges may be lodged against him.

According to Ludwig, Swierz said he hoped by blowing up the large munitions plant to avenge an attack by a Russian officer on his sister, who lives in Galicia.

O'NEILL FUNERAL TUESDAY.

Funeral services for Samuel O'Neill, who died yesterday forenoon, will be held on Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock at St. Rose Catholic church. The Rev. Father William A. Tobin will officiate. Interment will be at Gethsemani. The body rests at the home of his brother, Michael O'Neill, of 453 North McDonal street.

Kre-Mo Sterilized Rice has become so popular in the short time that it has been on the market, that imitations are being offered, some of them with a similar name. Imitation is the sincerest flattery, but be sure that you do not accept any of these imitations because there is no comparison between the real Kre-Mo Sterilized Rice and the best imitation, no matter how good that imitation may be. The genuine square package of Kre-Mo Sterilized Rice has the figure of a Japanese girl on it, and the name Fort Wayne. Don't accept a substitute.

THE LINCOLN HIGHWAY

Lima boasts of a unique position at the intersection of two great highways, the Lincoln and Dixie routes. We speak of this to strangers in connection with our transportation facilities. It is an honor with an advertising value which no other city on the map can boast. Of the former we are especially proud. Yet what has Lima done to keep this highway through the city?

Do you know that the national commission of the transcontinental road has written letters to the Chamber of Commerce and the Automobile club, which have been ignored? Field Secretary H. C. Osterman, here last night, vouches for that evidence of lack of interest. Money was collected from eighteen members more than a year ago, but the local man never sent in one cent. There is only one marker in the county outside of Lima.

Other cities take an interest in the highway because they realize the importance. It means travel and trade. With a war in Europe the coming summer will be the greatest the nation has ever seen for transcontinental travel. The tourists must stop and buy. They will advertise the city. It is an asset to have them passing through by the thousand. Other cities fight for the Lincoln Highway—and Lima is in a fair way to lose it within a few months.

There is a shorter route across the county via Beaverdam, Cairo, Gomer and Delphos, and the national officers are seriously considering a change of route. Why? Simply because Lima has never evidenced enough interest to warrant a loss of fifteen miles in the route across the county.

It is easy to tell where Hardin county begins. As soon as the road crosses the line the poles are marked and all turns and crossings indicated. The Hardin county folk had enough sense to see to that. In every other part of the country that detail has been attended to. Here in Lima there is no way of telling the route, and few limasites can do it mentally. The national backers of the project have a reason to consider the Beaverdam-Gomer route.

How can Lima keep this highway, which is to become an institution of vast importance? By raising fifty dollars in a short time. Within a few days two loaded trucks will start from New York to use donated paint in marking the highway accurately. Each county is expected to pay for the labor involved. That will cost Allen county fifty dollars because nothing of the kind has been done before. Interest here is at low ebb, and nothing has been done to keep it alive because there is little interest to keep alive.

We do not believe Lima will sacrifice the Lincoln Highway for the small sum of fifty dollars, but if through neglect or passive indifference this city loses the road it will not be the fault of any outsiders.

IS THE END COMING?

Robert Minor, noted as a war correspondent and formerly a cartoonist for the New York World, was a visitor at The Times-Democrat yesterday afternoon. As he spent the past summer in the war zone he was filled with thrilling experiences, inside observations and hitherto unchronicled statistical data. He inclines strongly to the opinion that the European war will terminate during the summer, the result to be a draw.

"They're tired of fighting and neither side can gain," he declared. "Germany can't take Verdun and her armies have gone to the limit in every direction. She has gained, but her conquered territory in Russia and the Balkans has not helped her to get a decision. The Entente allies, on the other hand, are a little to crush Germany as the Kaiser is to crush France. Neither can saddle an indemnity on the other." This contingency, while not altogether new, is worth considering in the light of his personal glimpses. The only other solution he can see is a heroic drive from one side strong enough to crush the opposition. It will be on the western front, he believes, and if made by the allies will be along the Yser.

Now if Mr. Minor's theory is correct the Entente will strike at Germany from the region of Ypres and not in the direction of Strassburg and Metz. Belgium is therefore to be the battle ground for a second time. The distance to Berlin is shortest by that route and the passage easiest, but what are the Germans to be doing all this time? Can it be possible that the defensive organization of the Kaiser will crumble under the attacks of England's raw recruits? Joffre's army is a defensive force, and has not yet been trained for extensive drives in connection with trench warfare.

And if the Germans cannot in eleven weeks dent the French bulwarks about Verdun, how then will they be able to succeed in another contest of the same nature as that of the Marne in October of 1914? That Berlin wants Calais for a Zeppelin base is common knowledge, but thus far she has been unable to push either down the Channel coast or through Artois, yet the British have been unable to retain more than a foothold on Belgium. From Dixmude to Ostend is much farther in resources than in kilometers.

The desultory deadlock all along the line from the North sea to Switzerland gives Mr. Minor's prediction every appearance of correct analysis. England has reached the stage of compulsory conscription and Germany faces famine. France is fighting as desperately as ever but with far fewer men than a year ago, while Austria is no longer a great military factor. Russia keeps the Germans from Riga and the latter have pushed as far as advisable in the east. The Balkan campaign is a victory for the Kaiser with few actual phases calculated to injure the Entente. For every British failure in Asia Minor there is a Russian victory over the Turks. The western deadlock remains. If there is still anything to be accomplished by exhausted nations it is hardly visible from this side of the Atlantic, and that goes a long way to verify Mr. Minor's assertions that the war will end by compromise during the summer. Neither the Entente Cordiale nor the Dual Alliance can dodge the inevitable cost.

The same congress-man who wants "decisive action" in Mexico is generally the one who voted against the senate bill providing for an army capable of doing something. Eliminating the Philippine and Hawaiian guards and the aerial and wireless squads, which is left for actual effectiveness in Sonora and Chihuahua today?

When the Sussex was destroyed Germany denied sinking it, but added that her lieutenant did sink at that time and place a boat which his pencil sketch proved to be another than the Sussex. Now the imperial government admits that it was the Sussex. Must diplomacy be distorted because of the poor draughtsmanship of a commander?

At Alamogordo, New Mexico, a man was punished for inciting Mexicans against the United States. At Arragaddon, Old Testament, four years ago a supernumerary was punished for inciting Americans against the United States.

Sandusky has had a serious fire. If all reports are true the town would profit by firing the city commission.

GOOD EVENING. It costs us all a little to make Lima a city, but the returns will make it a good investment.

TRAVELETTE

BY NIKSAH.

MAGELLAN STRAITS.

With the re-opening of the Panama Canal, one of the most famous of the old-time sea-roads will pass into increasing disuse. This may be matter for regret among those who are interested in the romance of the sea, but no ship captain is going to waste vain tears over the fact that he has to go through the Canal instead of the Straits of Magellan.

Of all the stern tests that the sailing ships of yesterday faced, there was none like that of a westward passage around the Horn, or the alternative of "running the straits." Even for the modern steam freighters there is danger in plenty, and room for the nicest of seamanship. The nautical pilot-books and official captains' handbooks are not given to over-statement or hyperbole. One such official volume, the work of British charting vessels, says simply of the western end of Magellan Straits that "there is found the worst weather in the world." The book is quite right. Once you have passed through the Straits, you are willing to accept that statement unreservedly. You do not even want to go about the world comparing that variety of bad weather with other kinds of bad weather. You take it with real faith for the worst.

Actual observations extending over a period of months show that the daily average of rain, hail and snow is about 11 hours a day. When it is not raining, hailing or snowing, it is preparing to rain, hail or snow. Usually it is bitter cold, there at the barren end of the continent. Great gales howl out of the west day after day and week after week, breaking the hearts of sailing-ship masters trying to beat into the Pacific. Vessels have been known to essay the Straits and the southern passage eight and nine months on end before making those few precious miles of westing.

Famine Beach, Useless Bay, Desolation Island—such are the names that mariners have given to different features of the Magellan channel. That whole is bleak and gray and iron-hard, with great tides running, great winds blowing, and the hungry rocks where the waves break hungry crowding in on either side. It takes good ships and good men to run Magellan Straits. The cold waters break over the bones of thousands that were tried and found not good enough.

FIGHT AGAINST DIPHTHERIA IS WELL STARTED

A country-wide campaign against diphtheria, similar to that waged against tuberculosis is just getting well under way, though records show that the disease was recognized as early as the first century in Egypt, Syria and Palestine. In Jewish history is mentioned a disease called "Askara"—the hardest kind of death. Through later literature run accounts of many epidemics that swept practically the whole of Europe.

Many Have Died.

During one epidemic in Italy and Spain in 1826 more than 5,000 people, mostly children, lost their lives. Many theories as to the cause were advanced. Bretonneau, in 1826, who named the disease diphtheria, recognized the common drinking cup as a factor in its spread.

The epidemic continues widespread until, in 1884, the discovery of the germ of diphtheria as the cause made possible great progress in its control.

Loeffler then recommended that individuals suffering from the disease should be isolated. He recognized the existence of carriers. A rule was passed in Germany in 1886 that convalescents from diphtheria should not be permitted to resume normal social intercourse until the complete disappearance of the germ had been demonstrated by examination.

Reduce Death Rate.

Though the extent of the disease was checked somewhat by these measures, the mortality continued high.

Six years later antitoxin was discovered and the disease was robbed of its terror. The number of deaths has been reduced 50 to 40 per cent. Today few severe epidemics occur, though small local epidemics continue to break out, sporadic cases crop up and deaths still occur.

Mansfield, Ohio.—"I am glad to endorse and recommend Dr. Pierce's Medical Discovery. I used it for a 'toning-up' medicine and it was satisfactory. It increased my appetite and strengthened me up every way. It is a good builder and tonic."—Mrs. W. T. Cookston, 151 South Foster Street.

A new man or a new woman can be made out of one that's "used-up," bilious and dyspeptic. It's done by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It starts the torpid liver into healthful action, purifies and enriches the blood, cleanses, repairs, and strengthens the system, and restores health and vigor. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it sets at work all the processes of digestion and nutrition, and builds up flesh and strength.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALT

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally If You Eat Meat Regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake in flushing the kidneys occasionally. Says a well-known authority: "Forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggish and strain into part of the waste poisons from the blood, then you are sick. Nearly all rheumatism, head aches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys."

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Mothers' Day Feature In Lima Churches Tomorrow

Places of Worship to Be Flower Bedecked; Special Music Ready

Mother's day will be celebrated on Sunday in Lima churches. In scarcely any of the churches will the day go unobserved. Not only in sermon and story will the glories of her whom every one loves, be set forth, but from the mouths of children and sweet-voiced songsters will untold praise ascend for mother.

In many of the churches the auditoriums will be decorated with flowers and the carnation, set aside for special homage to her, will be in evidence. Worshippers, especially if they be men, will wear the carnation in memory of mother.

If she is living and her sweet presence is still here to cheer and bless, then a pink or red carnation may be worn. But if she is enjoying the sunshine of eternal glory, leaving only behind her a beautiful heritage, the white flower will be appropriate.

Mothers in every congregation will find suitable seats reserved for them at these services and if not there before this year, every mother is urged to arrange to be present at the services tomorrow. A number of the churches will present mothers with carnations upon their entrance into the sacred edifice.

The whole will form a beautiful tribute to her who is the mother of children, who worried through many long nights of toil and care to guide the little feet over babyhood, to prepare them for fine man and womanhood and lastly, to sit back and feel that she had done her duty, to God, to her church and to man, in giving to the world these children.

She who no matter what a child has done, still believes him not guilty, she who sticks closer than any one else, she who is the first to forgive, the last to suffer and make no complaint and whose beautiful influence goes on and on, no matter if her trail hands have been crossed and her old body rests beneath a coffin-lid—it is she who will be honored on the morrow.

Every person is asked to drop earthly cares for a few hours and assemble in some place of worship tomorrow in tribute to her—MOTHER.

It was said here today that the new company will take over the affairs of the Continental Coal Company next Monday.

PILGRIM'S PROGRESS MOTION VIEWS AT CONG. CHURCH

The motion picture service based upon John Bunyan's great book, "Pilgrim's Progress" is attracting large numbers of people to the Congregational church.

Sunday night the pastor will preach the second sermon in the series on "The Adventures of a Christian." The motion pictures will show Christians armored with the breast-plate of righteousness, the shield of salvation and the sword of faith. He enters the valley of humiliation for the combat with Satan's Apollyon, who is vanquished after a death struggle.

One Christian goes through the terrible valley of death, haunted with ghost-like specters, he visits vanity fair, but is too wise for its follies, at Doubting Castle is ensnared by a net, and finally Christian passes over the river of death and sees a vision of the Holy City. Special music is provided for these services. Admission free.

ACCIDENT AFTER ACCIDENT FOR OHIO BOY

LORAIN, May 13.—Misfortune seems to camp on the trail of Albert Mori, 12, Amherst. Yesterday he was kicked and seriously injured by a cow. Four years ago the boy was knocked unconscious by the kick of a horse.

Two years later he fell from a wagon and suffered a broken arm. A few weeks later he fell on a pitchfork and was again seriously hurt. Three months ago he was stricken with diphtheria, followed by paralysis.

For three weeks after the paralytic attack he was totally blind and for a month could not walk. As the result of the kick of the cow his collar bone was broken and his neck sprained.

The Week In Society

MARIE N. NAGEL

SOCIETY BEGINS NOW ON A new series of pleasures. Clubs are putting off their meetings until colder days, and members are instead planning vacations at the lake or sea. The country club opened last week and interest will be centered in the golf season. Luncheon bridges will lose none of their old time favor, but will be given an added impetus by the attractiveness of the summer months. Last week although full of interest in recitals, bridges, teas and weddings, will only be eclipsed this week by the many activities planned.

Of great social interest and importance was the luncheon bridge given this afternoon by Mrs. M. K. Kelsley at the Lima Club, when she entertained the members of the Girls Bridge and Junior Bridge club and a number of other guests.

Luncheon was served at 10 o'clock at small tables placed in the large living room of the club. An unusually attractive color scheme was carried out with bowls of May tulips in an American beauty shade which centered each table. Place cards and favor emphasized the color note. After the delicious luncheon the guests devoted the afternoon to the playing of bridge. Guests were members of the Girls Bridge who are Mrs. Frank Baxter, Mrs. Brown of Wapakoneta, Mrs. Lou Laudick, Mrs. John Galvin, Mrs. Walter Jackson, Mrs. Frank Mair, Mrs. Dwight Goodyear, Mrs. George Bayly and Miss Cover. Members of the Junior Bridge who are Miss Alice Thompson, Mrs. Harley Holmes, Mrs. Black, Mrs. Holmes MacKenzie, Mrs. Gray Bailey, Mrs. Wallace King and Mrs. Clement Thompson. Lufkin, Mrs. Thomas MacLaughlin, Mrs. W. L. Russell, Mrs. Thor Mitchell, Mrs. R. W. Cary C. Williams, Mrs. Eva Creps, were entertained yesterday by Mrs. William McComb, Jr. Mrs. Creps read an interesting paper, and Mrs. Ebersole and Mrs. J. E. Dexter gave several pretty musical numbers. Guests were, other than the club members, Mrs. R. H. Ebersole, Mrs. Cary C. Williams, Mrs. Eca Creps, Mrs. Soebers, Mrs. J. D. S. Neely, Mrs. P. T. Devin and Mrs. John Orr. Mrs. Orr and Mrs. Devin assisted the hostess in serving refreshments after which the club adjourned to meet again two weeks.

Miss Gail Watson will have her pupils in recital Friday night, May 26, at the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. J. O. Ohler was elected chairman of the suffrage committee of the federated clubs last week. Members are now advocating the policy of Miss Anna Johnson, state chairman of suffrage, in that they are asking all the clubs of the federation to devote one meeting of the coming year to the study of suffrage. They also ask that all the women of Lima will show their sympathy by planting a yellow flower bed. For this purpose seeds have been obtained from the nurseries of John Louis Childs and are on sale to any person desiring them. They can be obtained from any one of the following persons: Miss Eleanor Bell, Miss Bonnie Lynn, Miss Martha Pihum, Mrs. Scott McGinnis, Mrs. Glenn Wallace or Miss Drusilla Rellie.

Complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Baker who were but recently married a number of their friends gave a shower at the new home of the young couple on Summit street. Many very beautiful gifts were given by the guests who were Mrs. W. F. Baker, Mrs. Clements, Mrs. F. C. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mueller, Mr. and Mrs. John Schmitt, Mr. and Mrs. Sweeney, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Certainly one regrets that they won't be able to go to New York with the delegates of the Federated clubs, for there is no doubt that it will be an epoch-making event in the history of Women's clubs. Plans have been formulated by the Lima women for their transportation, which will by no means be the least of their enjoyment. They will go to Toledo, where they have a special car to Albany, and from there they will take the boat down the Hudson to New York. On their return trip they will go by ocean to Norfolk, Va., then down the Potomac to Washington, and then home. One of the big things they have to look forward to is the garden party to be given on the DuPont-Satterwaite-Belmont estates with Mrs. O. P. Belmont and Mrs. DuPont hostesses. Transportation to the estates from the New York hotels will be furnished by Col. DuPont. The entertainment for the day will be a pageant written by Percy MacKaye in honor of the Shakespeare Tercentenary, in which the daughter of the noted writer will take part.

Among the women who are planning to go are: Mrs. Kent W. Hughes, president of the Lima Federation of Women's clubs; Mrs. O. B. Seifridge, Mrs. George Vicary, Mrs. B. A. Gramm, Mrs. W. A. Campbell, Mrs. Ross Mullin, Mrs. Frank Boone, Mrs. E. C. Powell, Mrs. Josephine Peirce, Mrs. M. M. Fixley and Mrs. M. B. Fuller. The decision of Kansas to have a state flag is settled, so far as public opinion goes, says the C. S. M. What the legislature will say remains to be seen. The state has a romantic and picturesque history that should be symbolized in some way on the state banner; and decision as to the design might well be left to persons competent to avert a geometrical monstrosity.

Miss Helen Wemmer, of West Market street, entertained the Girls' Bridge club at her home yesterday afternoon. Four tables were filled for play, which lasted throughout the afternoon. Prizes of the play were Miss Alice Thompson of the guests, and Miss Esther Wemmer of the club members.

Guests at the meeting other than the club members, were: Mrs. Harry Wright, Mrs. Henry Wemmer, Mrs. Alfred Wemmer, Mrs. Henry Densel, Jr., Mrs. George Glover, Mrs. Wallace King, Mrs. Fred Gooding and Miss Alice Thompson.

Nuptials of Miss Audrey Akerman and Wilbur Nye were celebrated Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Akerman, of Jameson avenue. The Rev. W. J. Dunham performed the ceremony, at which only the immediate relatives of the young couple were present.

After the last notes of "Because" sung by Mrs. Charles Black had died away, the bride came into the living room which was decorated with pink and white roses. She wore a gown of white silk, beautiful in its simplicity, and carried a shower bouquet of lilacs of the valley and bride's roses. Her gown gaway gown was mid-night blue taffeta and she wore with it a hat of rose color.

A wedding supper followed the ceremony, and was served in the dining room which was decorated in the Detective Case is Confident of Solving the Mystery Soon.

"THERE are only two theories possible: either the woman has been in a public institution all this time, or she has been earning her own living somewhere." Mr. Cane rose and walked up and down the porch with his hands in his pockets. "This is the fourth day since your baby disappeared."

"Is that all?" groaned Olive. "It seems four years."

"I suggest that we investigate all the public institutions and find out if any such woman is in any of them," continued the detective.

"No woman would steal a baby and take it to a public institution," broke in the doctor. "That would be the surest way to be found out."

"Of course she would not take the baby to the institution," replied Cane, "but she might have a place where the baby could be cared for for a time. One cannot account for the vagaries of a diseased mind."

"Oh, to think of my darling at the mercy of an insane woman. Might she not kill the child to complete her revenge when she found she could not keep it and escape detection?" Olive buried her face in her hands.

"There, my dear, do not imagine things. The real facts are bad enough." The doctor's tone was full of pity. "You are usually so brave in facing trouble. You must not dissipate any of your strength in needless fears. You will need it all to carry you to the end of this business."

The doctor had left the room and returned with a glass of water in his hand.

"Here, Olive, take this. You are all unstrung and this quieting powder will help you to get the sleep that you must have if you are to endure any more such days as today. Excuse me, Cane. I will assist her to bed." They left the room together.

"She is not going to stand up under this long," said the doctor despairingly as he returned to the room. "I tried to get her to consent to stay at home tomorrow, but she insists that the easiest way is to be where she can know what is going on all the time, as that will lessen the killing suspense. Perhaps she is right."

"Yes, I think she is," replied the detective. "We will get an early start and see if we cannot run this mystery down tomorrow."

"God grant we may," said the doctor fervently.

"Oh, I could be brave if I knew what I had to face. If I had lost my baby, if she were dead, and I knew I should never see her again on this earth I would have to adjust myself to the inevitable. As it is I do not know what I must adjust myself to. Suspense is the hardest thing for me to bear. The terrible tension of these four days has used up all my courage." She burst into uncontrollable tears.

"Now, Mrs. Ellison, I think we are well on the road to the solution of this mystery. Perhaps by tomorrow at this time we shall have the baby safe and sound back here in your home." Mr. Cane was trying to help the doctor to calm the distressed mother.

"Oh, that is what we have said every day. I did hope at first, but now—"

Tears choked her utterance.

The doctor had left the room and returned with a glass of water in his hand.

The club will hold its next meeting in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Harry Cooper of North Jackson street.

OUT ON LOCATION

Copyright 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

SO MANY people are eager to know what we mean when we say we are going out on location to take a picture and why we have to travel to the north for one or two scenes and to the south for three or four more.

If our studio is in New York and scenes in part of the story are laid in Arizona, we have to travel to that part of the country nearest to New York which will photograph atmospherically like Arizona.

There are some stretches in Florida where the vegetation looks as if the geography had intended it to be the southwestern desert wastes; then, again, we only have to travel a few miles farther to strike highly tropical scenes.

In California, more of the moving-picture studios are located in the southern part of the state, within a short ride of the high mountains, the burning deserts, the crooked inland rivers and the great caves heat-en into the shore by the force of the ocean breakers. It does not involve much of a journey to find the desert environment there or the other extreme, rugged pictures taken in the snow of the high mountains. Even society plays are put on to great advantage in the beautiful, luxuriant suburbs of Los Angeles. It is true they have the advantage over us in winter, especially as we have to go south for all of the scenes which are not those of snow-capped winter.

Looking over some plays the other day, I was interested in making note of how scattered the artists of our studio were at work upon these different stories. One of them called for scenes laid in Alaska. For the exterior they will probably go to the Adirondack mountains, near Saranac Lake, where the snow is almost as deep during the winter. It does in the great northwest. Another play had its drama laid

Are You Considering A New Corset? Why Not A Frolaset?

If you knew, as we know, the part that the corset plays in one's wardrobe, we are sure that many of you would discontinue to wear "any-old-kind" of a corset. The corset is the one imported garment that either makes or mars the distinctiveness of one's clothes. A strikingly smart corset of unusual excellence is the Frolaset—front lacing—Corset. We would like to show you the quality of these well known and superior corsets.

the coal mines, and the company will travel to Scranton, Pa., for wonderful, interesting scenes taken in America's largest coal mine, while another part involves the social life of the south. This means that a company will migrate to Virginia, and as part of the picture tells of the life of the mountain folk, when they have finished taking the beautiful plantations they will go to the peaks of the Blue Ridge. There, from dazzling heights, they will photograph the valleys, which are resplendent now because spring is on the wing!

In my last play, "Hilda From Holland", we had to look for exteriors in this country which resemble the geography of Holland, and, strangely enough, we found what we wanted at Bridhampton, Long Island.

Many have written to ask if we went to Japan for the "Madam Butterfly" picture. That had always been my dream, but when our studio came from California to New York Japan dissolved into the dim, romantic distance. For a Japanese location, we drove only sixty miles from the New York studio, but that was the ride which faced us morning and evening for several weeks. It was to a beautiful estate, an artistic replica of a Japanese garden, which had been tended for so many years by native gardeners that even the most obscure plants were essentially those of old Japan.

If the scenario describes the action as taking place in summer, we cannot show our actors and actresses wearing furs or walking through streets where the snow is banked against the sides of the houses, but we are transferred to some of the southern cities for all of the exteriors. It doesn't matter where the interiors are taken, as they are mostly studio sets.

Marvelous tricks have been done on the screen which have fooled even the professions, who thought their beautiful country exteriors, but were later informed they were built upon the stage in the studio. Sometimes this latter course is cheaper than and just as successful as taking a large company over many miles of country through many different states.

Answers to Correspondents

J. K. L.—I am so glad you took my advice and did not elope. Isn't it much nicer to have your engagement approved by your parents? I'm glad you wrote and told me—it will always help to encourage me to advise other young girls as I feel I should and not as they wish me to.

Mary F.—Your suggestions are very good, and I will try to use them in my articles soon. I'm glad you take such an interest in this column, and will indeed enjoy your letters when you write from time to time.

Anna H.—My mother has not appeared in pictures lately and Lottie is at present resting. Jack is with the Selig company. I answered your letter once before through this column—strange you did not see it.

John M.—I regret I cannot very well give your message to the actress you admire, but why not write to her direct?

Effie C.—In scenes such as you describe, a dummy and not the actor falls over the cliff in a machine, as a general rule.

WESTERN UNION AIDS MOTHERS DAY IDEA

The second Sunday in May is Mothers' Day. This year it falls on May 14th. The beautiful thought of setting aside one day in the year to be particularly devoted to ones mother was first suggested by Miss Anna Jarvis, of Philadelphia, who founded the Mothers' Day International Association to provide the necessary organized support for the fostering of the movement. Thanks largely to her efforts, Mothers' Day has become a recognized institution as the day on which each of us should pause to acknowledge our debt of affection and gratitude to "the best mother who ever lived," on which we should be with her if we can, and, if we unfortunately cannot, should make a point of sending her a message of affection and cheer.

In co-operation with the effort to foster the observance of Mothers' Day the Western Union Telegraph company has provided special telegraph blanks, appropriately decorated with an artistic design of carnations and bearing the legend "Mothers' Day" on which all messages of those who wish to send a word of greeting to their mothers on this occasion by day letter or by night letter or in a short telegram will be delivered.

THE EASY WAY TO MARKET

"PEOPLE sometimes ask me how I manage to get so much done," said Mrs. Smith. "I suppose the main thing is that I don't waste a lot of time doing things in the longest and most inconvenient way."

"For instance, take marketing. I used to put in a lot of time in going to buy things. Now I do almost all of my buying by telephone."

"It not only saves time, but I find that I get better service. I can do my buying early in the morning, and whatever I want is delivered about the time I would usually be ready to leave the house, if I were doing my shopping in person."

"The merchants seem to be particularly anxious to see that whatever is ordered by telephone, is just right. And with groceries and meat, it certainly is an advantage to do your buying early in the day, when everything is the best and freshest."

"The stores I deal with know that I do most of my buying by telephone, and whenever they get something in that they think would appeal to me, they call me up. I appreciate that kind of service."

BIG DEMAND FOR FLOWERS.

CINCINNATI, O., May 13.—Cincinnati florists said today that the tribute of flowers which will be paid to mothers Sunday will be the greatest in the city's history. More flowers will be bought on "Mothers' Day" they say than were bought on Easter and the latter day is usually regarded as the big day of the year in the floral industry. The introduction of the rose as a companion flower to the carnation on "Mothers' Day" has been the means of increasing the purchases for this day. Estimates were made that 30,000 carnations and 2,000 roses by Cincinnati florists during the day.

visitor. He was accompanied by S. A. Host, who holds the post of assistant secretary and publicity manager. "We don't have to go through Lima," declared Osterman. "In fact, we are losing time by doing it. We can save 15 miles by cutting north across the county and eliminating this city from the route, but we do not want to do that because the route picked out by former State Highway Commissioner James R. Marker was accepted as soon as he submitted it. But unless Lima shows some disposition to take an interest in the highway and do her small share the city cannot be retained."

The absence of markers through Allen county is the chief grievance of the organization. In both Hardin and Van Wert counties the route is well defined by signs on the telephone poles and by markers at each fork and intersection. "I can tell you exactly where the Hardin county line runs by the presence of markers on the other side," declared Osterman.

When the local council was organized money was collected and never turned in to the commission, he asserts. The fee for membership is $5, and on each side of Allen county there is a live and thriving organization. Bucyrus, Upper Sandusky and Ashland can all boast of greater interest than Lima, and practically every other city along the route through Ohio is interested except this, he added.

Early next month a party of painters will leave New York to place markers along the entire route. Two trucks donated by the Overland Company and loaded with paint contributed by the Lowe Brothers plant of Dayton, will be used in the trip. Late in June the party will reach the Allen county line, with every pole painted between Ada and New York. The organization desires that the local friends of the road pay for

CAN'T LOSE HAIR

Twenty Years From Today a Bald-headed Man Will Be An Unusual Sight.

One of the most prominent druggists of America made a statement a few weeks ago which has caused a great deal of discussion among scientists in the medical press.

He said: "If the new hair grower, Mildredina Hair Remedy, increases its sales as it has during the past year, it will be used by nearly every man, woman and child in America within eight years. "When Mildredina Hair Remedy is used almost universally, dandruff will disappear and with its departure baldness, itching scalp, splitting hair and all scalp diseases will follow and twenty years from now a bald head will be a rarity." the labor in establishing markers in this county, and the cost will be about $50. Lack of interest has been responsible for the failure of Lima to care for this matter in the past, and only a revival of attention to the national transcontinental highway will keep the route through this city. L. P. Smith, automobile dealer, was present last evening when Osterman and Host consulted representatives of the local papers relative to the proposed change of route and volunteered to raise the needed sum at once.

PILGRIMS MASS AT CAREY ON MAY 28

Hundreds to Attend From Lima and Nearby Towns.

Mass will be celebrated for Lima Pilgrims on Sunday, May 28, in the new Church of Our Lady of Consolation at Carey at 8:30 o'clock. Several hundred from Lima and towns along the Lake Erie and Western railroad will make this trip. The Rev. John Mizer, pastor of St. John's Catholic church, for 35 years pastor of the Church of Our Lady of Consolation at Carey, will lead the Lima delegation. A special train will carry the pilgrims.

The week of prayer at the shrine at Carey will be held beginning Saturday, May 20, and last until the following Sunday. The last day is when Lima Catholics will attend.

Thursday, May 25, will be one of the important days of the week, when the Rt. Rev. Joseph Schrembs, bishop of Toledo, diocese, will confirm a class of children at 8 o'clock and preach the sermon at high mass in the new church at 10:30 o'clock. Those who worship at this shrine are said to be benefited physically and are able to leave artificial means of getting about, being cured. Each year hundreds of people make the trip.

KILLED AT A CROSSING.

XENIA, O., May 13.—Edward Karnes, painter and paper hanger, of Bowersville, was struck by a Pan Handle passenger train, westbound, at the New Jasper crossing, east of here, at 7:10 last night, and instantly killed. He was riding in a buggy and did not notice the approaching train.

A GOOD FRIEND.

A good friend stands by you when in need. Lima people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. Mr. Marshall endorsed Doan's over nine years ago and again confirms the story. Could you ask for more convincing testimony?

J. R. Marshall, 731 W. High street, Lima, says: "The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and scanty. It allowed to stand, they deposited sediment like brick dust. I doctored a great deal but got no benefit. If I could cold I became worse than ever. I used Doan's Kidney Pills as the last resort and received a complete cure." (Statement given November 11, 1906).

Eight years later Mr. Marshall said: "Doan's Kidney Pills proved to be all that is claimed for them. I gladly endorse them again." Price 50c at all dealers. HOWE'S CIRCUS REAL BIG THREE RING MODERN AFFAIR

Street Parade Wins Praises of Crowded Streets Before Noon.

Managerie is Superior to Most Shows and Cities Visited Command.

It was an admiring crowd that viewed the morning parade of the Howe's circus at 10:30 o'clock this morning, and the parade gives the Howe shows the stamp of character prevailing with the big shows of the country. The costumes were bright and attractive, and it is a notable fact that they have an unusually fine lot of horses.

A feature of the Howe show is the fact that the admission ticket includes the managerie as well as the big tent show, contrary to the custom of some of the smaller shows, and press dispatches from cities the show has visited this season speak in most glowing terms of the high quality of the organization and performance, and gives it the stamp of the best circus attraction booked for Lima this month.

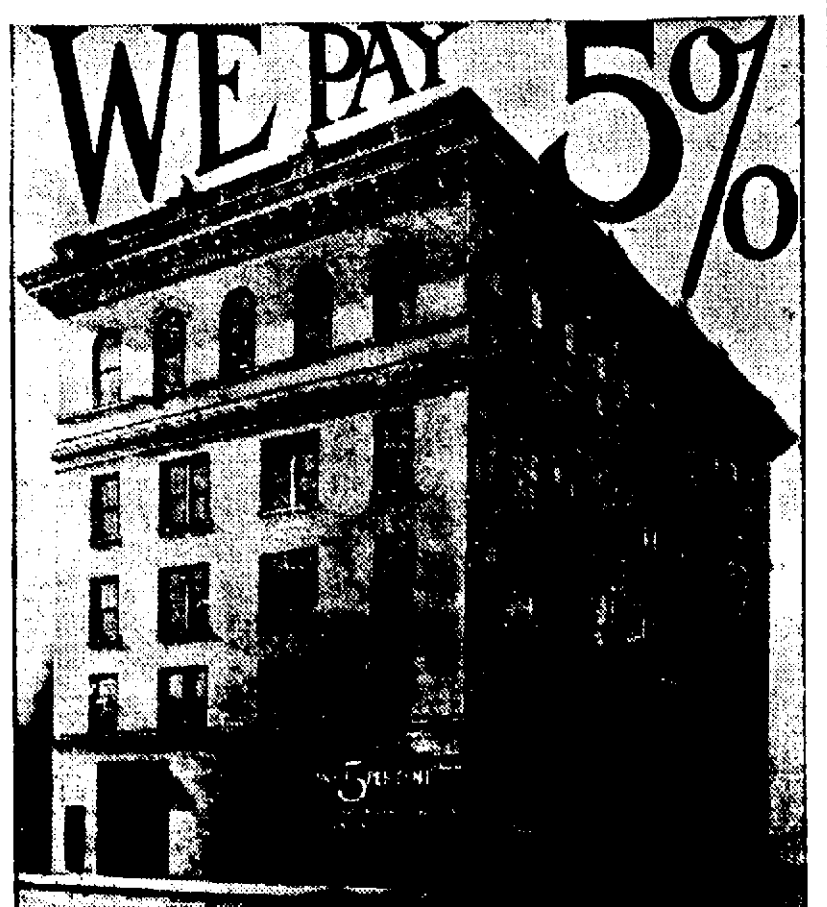

The show is located at the North Main street show grounds, and large crowds gathered for the matinee performance, the day being an ideal one for attending a circus performance.

This afternoon, under a great absolutely waterproof tent, there was shown the performance before an audience which sat spellbound while daredevil risks were run in every thing.

From the time of the grand entry, in which Cossacks, Indians, Mexicans, Japanese, Arabs and other representatives of the nations represented, until the end of the performance, there was not a moment when each and every spectator was not literally on the edge of his seat and time and again spontaneous applause greeted the marvelous stunts of the aerial artists, equestriennes, acrobats, tumblers, clowns, jugglers and contortionists.

In all there are about 200 acts in the show, and perhaps the greatest was that of the herd of excellently trained seals, known as Bennett's $10,000 trained seals, which deserve particular mention. Billy, the most intelligent of the seals, gave everybody a surprise when he sat down to a musical instrument and played "My Country 'Tis of Thee". Next came the Avalon troupe of tight wire walkers, consisting of four ladies and three gentlemen; the fifteen Royal Arabs, whose remarkable acrobatic acts have been the wonder of the people on two continents; the Correl troupe of horsemen were particularly good; Cecil Levanda and John Corvella startled everybody by their wonderful bareback riding and backward somersaults. Jennette, queen of the sawdust ring, is a bareback rider in a class by herself.

The Yeno Japanese troupe was a feature, and the most versatile of the troupe was the small boy who could twist, squirm, and hop with remarkable ease and grace. Professor R. H. Dockrill with his $30,000 troupe of high school horses received much praise; Hans and Hans and the Two Silverlakes were especially clever.

The clowns must not be overlooked for they were about the best that have been seen here in years. There are thirty in all and are the pick of the United States.

Howe's shows have disposed of the time-honored "concert" and have substituted a Wild West exhibition instead, consisting of fancy roping, bucking bronchos, and the usual wild west attractions.

There was not a hitch in the performances and everything moved along in clockwork order. The management has spared no pains to secure efficient corps of workmen and should be highly complimented for the courtesy with which the crowd was handled and seated.

The show carries its own cooking, dining and blacksmith equipment, and employs capable physicians who travel with the show to look after the small army of men and women performers.

HAYDN'S 'CREATION' PRESENTED IN MOST SKILLFUL MANNER

Imported Talent Had Much to Do With Success Won.

Community Chorus and Orchestra in Fine Form for Work.

Haydn's "Creation," justly ranked as one of the greatest oratorios in musical history, was presented last night by the Community Chorus at the Memorial hall, with a full complement of all parts. In addition to the vocal work, much was added to the program by the accompaniment of the orchestra headed by Charles Curtis, which has been drilling for weeks to be prepared for the event.

Imported talent had much to do with the success of the entertainment, although the local singers were in fine form. Mrs. Anna R. Davies of Gomer, carried the solo soprano parts, "With Verdure Clad" being her best number. She gave the selection a pleasing interpretation and her tonal qualities, well known to Lima music-lovers, were on the best. The bass solo work was handled by Marion Green of Chicago, whose powerful voice was not marred by affected enunciation. He possesses a range and strength of voice well fitted for the heavier numbers, and in the aria, "The Lord is Great," his work was best received.

Another Chicago singer was Arthur Platz, tenor, whose narrative and recitative selections were well presented. The chorus work was at the best in "The Heavens Are Telling," which furnishes the undercurrent motif for the entire oratorio.

The orchestra was especially skillful in strict attention to tempo and cadence. At no time was the accompaniment too heavy for the chorus, yet it was so regulated as to fit in well and be heard during the choral numbers. The organization was made up of volunteers who have ignored other obligations in order to make the event a success, and the entire body showed the good effect of almost constant training.

Attendance was hampered by the rainfall, but there were several patrons of musical art in the audience. The efforts of the singers and players were appreciated and generous applause was forthcoming after each number.

Only those who have witnessed Miss Clark's portrayal of the irresistible little scamp of "Wildflower" and "Mice and Men," can possibly realize the infinite charm with which she invests her interpretation of the character of Molly, one of the most lovable creatures in all fiction. She is admirably suited by temperament and artistic skill to visualize the petite tearer of good tidings whom Eleanor Hallowell Abbott so delightfully describes in her popular book. The program also contains new and highly amusing Bray cartoons, "The

In addition to this great picture feature, special vaudeville numbers will be given between the reels, booked especially for the day. Afternoon and night.

"Forbidden Fruit" is a photo-drama of heredity in which a woman's supreme sacrifice mercilessly bares the soul of man and woman. The sociological problem is similar to that discussed so frankly in "Damaged Goods".

In the Brieux play it is the man who falls and visits the terrible consequences of his sin on his family. "Forbidden Fruit" reverses the positions of the man and the woman, except that in this case the woman makes the supreme sacrifice and pays the penalty to save her husband from the penitentiary. Manlike, he turns on her when the truth leaks out.

"But I did it for you," the frenzied plea of the woman about to be cast aside, comes in the most dramatic scene in this powerful play. Miss Paula Shay and Everett Butterfield are the dual stars of this daring sex photo-drama, supported by an exceptionally strong cast, including Minna Phillips, James Cooley and Little Kittens Reichart, who was recently seen here in "A Fool's Revenge".

She sacrificed herself—this woman. She gave up all! Made of herself a martyr for the love of a man. And then he too, spurned her. Stone Age Rooster Robber."

On Tuesday and Wednesday the Fauror will have that delightful comedian, John Barrymore, who will appear in a picturization of the famous musical comedy success, "The Red Widow." Here is a story that fits Mr. Barrymore's deft methods to a T. In the character of Cicero Hannibal Butts his ebullient humor finds full expression. Flora Zabelle, who was in the original cast of the musical version of the comedy, will again play Anna Vavara, the beautiful Russian widow, in this screened edition of the best thing ever written by those brilliant collaborators, Renold Wolf and Channing Pollock. New Burton Holmes Travel pictures, "The Lowlands of Luzon," complete a brilliant entertainment.

A newcomer on the Metro program, but widely known as one of the most charming artists on the American stage, come to the Fauror on Thursday and Friday in the person of Mabel Taliaferro, who will appear in the new Metro production, "Her Great Price." According to the reviewers of the "cities" where the picture has been shown, Metro has scored a great hit with their new star and the admirable production in which she is featured. It is said to possess novelty of construction, is clean, entertaining and invigorating, and elaborately staged. It is accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew in a new comedy, "Their First." This program will be shown in the afternoon only on Thursday.

For Saturday the Fauror will have Marguerite Clark back again. Two appearances of this entrancing little favorite in one week is enough to fill with joy the hearts of all picture fans, but when they learn that on Saturday she is to appear in one of her greatest successes, "Seven Sisters," their delight will be unbounded. Many requests have come to the Fauror for a return visit of this charming picture and that theater takes especial pleasure in again offering it to its patrons. New Paramount Pictographs will also be presented on this program.

AT THE STAR

Today, another of those all first-run pictures direct from Universal City, "A Fight For Love," a two-reel Bison underworld drama, by W. B. Pearson, featuring G. Raymond Nye and Roberta Wilson. This great detective story is filled with thrill from start to finish. "Her Great Part," a Laemmle comedy-drama, with Myrtle Gonzalez and Fred Church, also the Animated Weekly, giving all the latest news.

Sunday, "A Soul for Sale," a three-part Rex drama of studio life in London, and a girl forced into soul slavery, contains thrills and heart throbs galore. Also one of Nestor's famous comedies.

ORPHEUM

By request of many patrons of the Orpheum, the Chet Keyes players for their fourth successful week in Lima will present a dramatization of Harold Bell Wright's great novel, "The Calling of Dan Matthews," sequel book and play of "The Shepherd of the Hills." Nearly every one has read these two interesting books, many have not seen the plays, and especially at popular prices. In presenting one of the most successful plays of their entire repertoire, as in every city visited by this popular organization, it has been the means of packing the theatre at every performance. "The Calling of Dan Matthews" is a good wholesome play, and comes to us like the canonizing of the elements purifying in a murky atmosphere. Righteous in its mission, contemporary with present day thought, most beautiful in story and exceedingly praiseworthy in literary merit.

That the play is of vital importance today, is verified by the fact that since the publication of Mr. Wright's novel, over one million copies have been sold. The dramatization by Mr. Wright and Mr. Reynolds retains all the vitality, all the ing with the vendettas for which these impulsive people are noted. Rose is forced by her uncle to work out in the fields with the men, and some time later when she is seen by a wealthy landowner's daughter, the daughter obliges the uncle to take the girl out of the fields. In revenge, the uncle plans to abduct the wealthy girl. Rose overhears the plot and hastens to warn the other, but she is captured by one of the accomplices and the girls are taken in a carriage to the mountain retreat of the abductors. After a series of thrilling adventures, they are rescued through the assistance of Pedro, the sweetheart of Rose, the bandits are given their just punishment and the part played by "the carriage of death" is thrillingly portrayed by the photoplay. Seeing this will carry one away to the land of sunshine, for the scenes are so prettily presented that one forgets himself for the time being. In addition to this feature will be shown "Madge Kirby and Art Tavares" under the direction of "Rube" Miller in the Vogue comedy "Out For The Count."

Game Cancelled

There seems to be little chance of Lima High playing any more baseball this season, according to present indications, as practically all high schools in surrounding towns and cities have disbanded their teams. Ada high was to have played Lima today, but the manager of that team called up Principal Schweickert yesterday and informed him that the team in that city had been abandoned and asked that the game be cancelled. Lima has a game scheduled with the Van Wert high team next Saturday.

Oarsmen Contest In East

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 13.—Most of the leading oarsmen from eastern universities and crews representing rowing clubs and high schools from New York, Boston and Philadelphia, were entered in the fourteenth annual regatta of the American Rowing association, which was held on the Schuylkill river today. There were 11 events on the program, all of which were rowed over the Henley course of one mile and 555 yards.

The feature event of the regatta was the child's cup race, which was won last year on Carnegie Lake by Princeton. In this event Pennsylvania, Princeton, Columbia and the United States Naval Academy were entered. The winner was eligible to start in the Stewards' cup race with Union B. C. of Boston; Harvard, Yale and the University of Pennsylvania. Rowing experts expected that the Childs cup race would be one of the highest stroked ever witnessed between college crews.

There are 11 events on the regatta program, including the feature Childs cup race.

Lima vs. Mansfield Tomorrow

Manager Callahan of the Independents, states that all members of the team are in condition for the opening game Sunday afternoon with Mansfield. Mayor Simpson will assist in giving the opening of the baseball season an auspicious start by making an address to the crowd of fans and tossing the first ball across the plate. A letter received by the local management from the Mansfield manager states that the club has put in considerable practice and expects to give the Lima club a hard battle. From the reputation that the Mansfield club achieved last year, it is evident that the locals will have to do some to annex a victory.

Annual Kentucky Derby Will Run Today In South

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 13.—Twelve horses, the pick of 56 nominations made this spring, have been named to go to the post today in the forty-second annual running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs. The race is for three-year-olds at a mile and a quarter. It is worth approximately $15,000. As in past years a free infield will be opened to the public and accommodations have been made at the track for 100,000 visitors. It is expected that the largest crowd that ever witnessed a derby will be present.

Early today it was indicated that the race would be run over a fast track, and in that event horsemen predict that the record of 2:03 2-5 will be broken. First choice in the pari-mutuel betting, it was indicated, will be A. K. Macomber's English entry, Star Hawk, and The Cock, at odds of 2 to 1, with George Smith second at 13 to 5; and the Harry Payne Whitney entry third at 18 to 5. The race is regarded, however, as the open derby ever run and all the horses that start will be wagered on. Huf-faker and Kinney probably will be held at the longest odds.

A feature of the race is that while 12 starters have been named, but eight owners are represented, there being four entries of two horses each. The horses, owners and weights and probable jockeys follow: A—Star Hawk, A. K. Macomber; 117; Garner. B—George Smith; J. Sanford; 117; J. Loftus. C—Franklin; J. S. Ward; 117; F. Murphy. D—Thunderer; H. P. Whitney; 117; J. Notter. E—Dodge; J. S. Ward; 117; no jockey named. F—Dominant; H. P. Whitney; 117; T. McTuggart. G—Bulse; J. W. Parrish; 117; F. Cooper. WALL ST. STOCKS
STEADILY MOVE UP

Trading Moderate Because of Preparedness Parade
in New York.

NEW YORK, May 13.—Yesterday's upward movement in the more active stocks was resumed at today's opening but trading was moderate, operations being somewhat curtailed by Wall Street's interest in the preparedness parade. War issues, particularly Baldwin Locomotive and Crucible Steel were appreciably higher, together with the motor group, those issues rising 1 to 2 points. The Mexican situation was viewed with more hopefulness judging from the firmness of shares having such connections, and rails were again conspicuous, notably New Haven and Canadian Pacific.

The financial community's absorbing interest in the preparedness demonstration probably accounted for the light dealings during today's brief session. Activity centered mainly about issues identified with that movement, however, motor stocks, Baldwin Locomotive and Crucible Steel pointing the way to appreciably higher prices. Studebaker was the most conspicuous feature, scoring an extreme gain of 7 at 141, while Willys-Overland rose 10 to the new record of 270, with nine points for General Motors at 460. There was little inquiry for former favorites, United States Steel fluctuating narrowly. Rails reflected realizing sales, although Reading was strong, rising above 90, a new maximum quotation. Western Union was the feature of the utilities group with an advance of over 3 points. The closing was strong. Bonds were steady.

WHEAT RALLY IS
RESULT OF WEATHER

Light Corn Receipts Favors
Bull Influence for a Time Only.

CHICAGO, May 13.—Wheat prices rallied today from an early setback that was caused by rains southwest and a forecast of additional moisture. Opening prices which ranged from ½ off to ¼ up, with July at $1.15 to $1.16½, and September at $1.15½ to 1.16, were followed by a moderate general decline and then a recovery in full.

Corn fluctuated with wheat. Lightness of receipts tended somewhat to favor the bulls. After opening ¼ lower to ½ advance, the market hardened a little all round.

Selling from local speculators had a temporary weakening effect on prices. Prices, however, took an upturn when strength developed in other grains.

Higher quotations on hogs lifted provisions. Trade was chiefly in lard.

Wheat prices closed firm at 1c to 1½ 1-8 net advance, with July $1.17 3-8 and Sept. $1.17 1-8@1-4. The corn close was steady at 1-4@3-8 to 3-8@1-2c net gain.

The close was: Wheat, July $1.17 3-8; Sept. $1.17 1-8. Corn, July 43-8; Sept. 73 1-2. Oats, July 43 1-2; Sept. 39 3-4. Pork, July $23.65; Sept. $23.45. Lard, July $12.87; Sept. $13. Ribs, July $12.75; Sept. $12.85.
